Gender Change in Academia Birgit Riegraf, Brigitte Aulenbacher, Edit Kirsch-Auwärter, Ursula Müller. 2010-07-15 Editors' Foreword The fundamental changes currently taking place in the national and international science landscapes can no longer be overlooked. Within those changes, reforms do not go 'as planned' but, as is always the case with processes of rationalisation, have a series of unintended effects. At the same time it becomes increasingly clear who in this process are the winners and who are the losers, although this is still subject to fluctuation and change. This can be illustrated by two examples from current events: Where the range of taught courses is concerned, as part of the Bologna Process the new structuring of student study paths and their organisation is aimed at unifying the European area of science to ensure a study that is equally permissive and efficient. However, it is to be deplored that the mobility of students has become more restricted because of an increasing specialisation in the available study paths. Also, bachelor degrees do not meet with the anticipated high response from the labour market in all countries, so that the master's degree is becoming more or less a 'must', while at the same time the number of study places on master's courses is limited. Instead of the intended reduction in the duration of study time in comparison to the previous German 'Magister' and 'Diplom', rather a prolongation in the duration of studies has been recorded.

Mentoring und Coaching als Beitrag zur Professionalisierung angehender Lehrpersonen Christian Reintjes, Gabriele Bellenberg, Grit im Brahm. 2018 Im Zuge einer zunehmenden Kompetenzorientierung wird in der Debatte zur Reform der Lehrerinnen- und Lehrerbildung kritisch hinterfragt, ob die Lehramtsstudiengänge hinreichend auf das Berufsfeld ausgerichtet seien. Angesichts empirischer Befunde, welche die Wirksamkeit bloßer Praxiserfahrungen für die Professionalisierung zum Teil infrage stellen und zum Teil sogar auf negative Effekte hinweisen, stellt sich somit die Frage, wie sich Professionalisierungsprozesse institutionell, curricular und personell zielführend gestalten lassen. In Praxisphasen einphasiger und zweiphasiger Ausbildungsmodelle soll der Professionalisierungsprozess durch eine Stärkung der von Mentorinnen und Mentoren angeleiteten Reflexion, die als wichtiger Mediator zwischen Wissen und Können angenommen wird, verbessert werden. Dieser Band versammelt professionalisierungstheoretisch-konzeptionelle sowie empirische Beiträge des zweiten internationalen Kongresses der Gesellschaft für Schulpraktische Professionalisierung (IGSP), der im März 2017 an der Ruhr-Universität Bochum stattfand. Länderübergreifend liegen unterschiedliche Praxiskonzepte vor, in denen Mentoring und Coaching verschiedene Funktionen einnehmen. Dies ist Anlass genug, den dritten Band der IGSP-Reihe schwerpunktmäßig diesem Thema zu widmen.

Sports Coaching Cultures Kathleen M. Armour, Robyn Jones, Paul Potrac. 2004-07-31 'The art of coaching is recognising the situation, recognising the people and responding to the people you are working with... that's the big thing, to handle people'. Steve Harrison, Coach, Middlesbrough Football Club. Responding to the fast growing subject in academic sports departments, this groundbreaking new coaching studies text offers a view that focuses the coach as a person and the coaching practice as a complex social encounter. Unlike existing titles in the field which look at coaching as a science, this book examines the personalities, histories, relationships and individual styles of eight coaches at the top of their profession. One-to-one interviews with some of the best-known and respected elite sports coaches include Steve Harrison, Hope Powell and Graham Taylor from football; Ian McGeechan and Bob Dwyer from rugby; Di Bass from swimming; Lois Muir from netball; and Peter Stanley from athletics; and form the basis for subsequent exploration of four key themes in sports coaching: * coaching pedagogy * the coach's role * the coach's interaction with athletes * the coach's power. This text will be of significant interest to students of coaching science and sports science, and will appeal to the considerable body of amateur sports coaches with an interest in the styles of those at the top.

SAGE Handbook of Mentoring and Coaching in Education Sarah Fletcher, Carol A Mullen. 2012-02-14 The knowledge base about mentoring and coaching in education has grown considerably worldwide in the last decade. The very many definitions of mentoring and coaching demand an evidence base to assist with understanding the convergence and distinctions between these concepts, and with situating them in relation to learning. This Handbook is a leading source of ideas and information. It covers national and international research on schools, higher education, and disciplines within and beyond education. The editors draw together contributions and present evidence bases and alternative worldviews in which concepts are both untangled and substantiated. Unique in its coverage, this handbook maps current knowledge and understanding, values and skills underpinning educational mentoring and coaching for learning. Contributors who are leading scholars and practitioners address issues of theory and practice in school, higher education, and other educational contexts, and they set out practical applications of coaching and mentoring for practitioners and researchers. Contributors also address social justice issues, such as those involving traditional and technical forms of mentoring and coaching, democratic and accountability agendas, and institutional and historical patterns of learning. The SAGE Handbook of Mentoring and Coaching in Education is an essential reference for practitioners, researchers, educators, and policymakers. Dr Sarah J Fletcher is an international Educational Research Mentoring and Coaching Consultant and she convenes the Mentoring and Coaching SIG for the British Educational Research Association. Carol A Mullen is Professor and Chair, Educational Leadership and Cultural Foundations Department, at The University of North Carolina at Greensboro, North Carolina, USA.

Coaching Understood Elaine Cox. 2012-11-12 'This book is a milestone in the coaching literature. Elaine Cox provides an excellent text that is scholarly, practical and accessible. She offers clear insights into how coaching works so that coaching is truly understood!' - Bob Garvey, Professor of Business Education, York St John Business School 'The development of the coaching literature has often been protracted and modest. In recent years, few coaching texts provided a significant leap forward in our understanding of psychological dynamics of coaching. For this reason, Cox's Coaching Understood is a game changer. More thoroughly and systematically than ever before, this work gets under the bonnet of the coaching engine and explores the mechanics of the coaching process. For anyone wondering why coaching works, this book is your answer.' - Yossi Ives, Tag International Development, UK (International Journal of Evidence Based Coaching Mentoring) Coaching Understood takes a fresh approach to coaching skills and techniques by examining each element of the coaching process in detail in order to verify and justify its effectiveness. By exposing the mystery underlying coaching's success as a personal and professional development intervention, Elaine Cox undertakes to generate a better understanding of coaching, improve coaching practice, and breed a new generation of more informed coaches and buyers of coaching. Coaching Understood is essential reading for students and practitioners alike.

Constructing Inequality in Multilingual Classrooms Luisa Martín Rojo. 2010-07-30 In her groundbreaking and innovative study, the author takes us on a fascinating journey through some of Madrid's multilingual and multicultural schools and reveals the role played by linguistic practices in the construction of inequality through such processes as what she calls de-capitalization and ethnicization. Through a critical sociolinguistic and discourse analysis of the data collected in an ethnographic study, the book shows the exclusion caused by monolingualizing tendencies and ideologies of deficit in education and society. The book opens a timely discussion of the management of diversity in multilingual and multicultural classrooms, both for countries with a long tradition of migration flows and for those where the phenomenon is relatively new, as is the case in Spain. This study of linguistic practices in the classroom makes clear the need to rethink some key linguistic concepts, such as practice, competence, discourse, and language, and to integrate different approaches in qualitative research. The volume is essential reading for students and researchers working in sociolinguistics, education and related areas, as well as for all teachers and social workers who deal with the increasing heterogeneity of our late modern societies in their work.

New perspectives on career counseling and guidance in Europe Valérie Cohen-Scali, Jerome Rossier, Laura Nota. 2018-05-17 In industrialized societies, individuals are facing major challenges that mobilize many of their psychological and social resources. The world of work is changing constantly. Adults have to adapt their technical skills and knowledge continuously. For teenagers and young adults, choosing a vocation and constructing their future career paths is becoming increasingly difficult. The migration of people and the globalization of the workforce raise questions about social inclusion and the future of affected individuals. These examples highlight the importance of the field of Career Counseling and Guidance to support citizens individually and collectively in building their future. The challenges our societies face demonstrate how crucial the development of research in this field is. The European Doctoral Programme in Career Guidance and Counselling (ECADOC), funded by the European Commission from 2013-2016, has brought together PhD students working on burning issues in this field, using various theoretical references and methodologies. The four parts of this book present a selection of innovative research aiming to find answers to the named challenges. Part 1 deals with key psychological processes involved in career construction of young adults. Part 2 presents research concerning transitions over the course of life. Part 3 covers research related to interventions of career guidance and counseling. Part 4 outlines perspectives for the future and proposes a European Research Agenda for our field of research. Perspectives on Current Research in Career Guidance and Counseling - Building Careers in Changing and Diverse Societies is dedicated to students, researchers and practitioners in the fields of education, career guidance, psychology, human resource management to inform them about very recent work and promote the development of innovative interventions and programmes.

Educational Jobs: Youth and Employability in the Social Economy Vanna Boffo, Paolo Federighi, Francesca Torlone. 2015-11-27 In Europe the social economy employs almost 15 million workers. During the crisis years, unlike other sectors, it has often generated an increase in jobs. The aim of this comparative study is to investigate how to allow the supply and demand for young people to meet in the different types of social economy bodies. In particular, it concentrates on the problem of how to bring into line initial university training and the skills required by these organizations. The focus is placed on the varied family of training workers present in at least 75% of the organizations, whose professionalism is nevertheless rarely acknowledged. The papers proposed in this book try to identify the most suitable solutions at the level of curriculum, career development and accompanying measures, while drawing solutions from objective findings and not from training system needs or convictions.

Transformative Learning Meets Bildung Anna Laros, Thomas Fuhr, Edward W. Taylor. 2017-01-28 This edited volume sets the groundwork for a dialogue between transformative learning and continental theories of Bildung in adulthood. Both theoretical frameworks bring meaning to the complex learning process of individuals as they develop a more critical worldview. In this volume, a variety of authors from different countries and theoretical backgrounds offer new understandings about Bildung and transformative learning through discussion of theoretical analyses, educational practices, and empirical research. As a result, readers gain greater insight into these theories and related implications for teaching for change. From the various chapters an exciting relationship between both theories begins to emerge and provides impetus for greater discussion and further research about two important theories of change in the field of adult education. /div

The Health Promoting School Bjarne Bruun Jensen, Stephen Clift. 2005-12-31 This book brings together recent international scholarship on the links between education and health, and recent research evidence evaluating the processes and outcomes of health promoting schools initiatives. The book arises out of the Education and Health in Partnership conference, which took place in Egmond aan Zee, the Netherlands in September 2002. The key aims of the conference were to focus on effective partnership working for health in schools and to consider the evidence base for health promoting schools programmes. A significant outcome of the conference was the Egmond Agenda, which outlines the principal components for success in establishing health promoting schools. Contributors from across Europe, the United States, South Africa and Australia present findings from national health promoting school projects, with a particular emphasis on the promotion of mental health. The volume will be of interest to all education and health professionals interested in the contributions of schools in promoting health, empowerment, action competence and wellbeing of young people.

Challenging the 'European Area of Lifelong Learning' George K. Zarifis, Maria N. Gravani. 2013-10-29 This book critically reflects on the context in which lifelong learning policies and practices are organized in Europe with contributions of researchers and policy makers in the field. Through a critical lens the book reinterprets the core content of the messages that are conveyed by the European Commission in the "Memorandum for Lifelong Learning", the most important policy document in the area, which after a decade from its publication still remains the vehicle for all current developments in lifelong learning in Europe. With references to research findings, proposed actions, and applications to immediate practice that have an added value for Europeans -but which either do not appear to correspond directly to what is stipulated by the European Commission, or are completely ignored as part of the lifelong learning process- the book offers an analytic and systematic outlook of the main challenges in creating the 'European Area of Lifelong Learning'. In times as decisive as the ones we are going through today (both in social and economic terms), a critical perspective of the practices and policies adopted by the EU Member States is essential. The book follows the same structure as the Memorandum in order to debate and critically approach in separate sections the core issues that Europe faces today in relation to the idea of making a 'European area of Lifelong Learning'.

Aufgabenorientierte Wissenschaft Serjoscha P. Ostermeyer. 2015 Wie kann und sollte Wissenschaft angesichts komplexer Welt und zunehmender Spezialisierung organisiert sein? Der zweite Band der Reihe Dialog der Wissenschaften schlägt vor, wissenschaftliche Zusammenarbeit um basale Aufgaben menschlicher Tätigkeit zu versammeln. Die Beiträge nutzen unterschiedliches Fachwissen: Angewandte Kulturwissenschaft, Musikwissenschaft, Urban Studies, Soziologie, Geschichtswissenschaft, Wissensmanagement, Sprachwissenschaft und Erziehungswissenschaften. Über die eigene Fachperspektive hinaus werden dabei Verbindungen für transdisziplinäre Forschung in vier Formen gesucht: wie Wissen zu Architekturen geformt wird, wie situative Settings Wissensarbeit rahmen, wie Wissen an den Grenzen wissenschaftlicher Disziplinen produziert wird und welche Angebote für professionelles Handeln in einem Dialog der Wissenschaften bestehen. Aufgabenorientierte Wissenschaft regt transdisziplinäre Verständigungen an - für alle, die mit wissenschaftlichem Wissen aus mehreren Fachsprachen umgehen. Bezogen auf Aufgaben entstehen Gelegenheiten gemeinsam zu sprechen, zu handeln, herzustellen und in Gang zu halten.
