Japanese Ikebana for Every Season Yuji Ueno,Rie Imai.2014-02-04 The true meaning of Ikebana—the traditional Japanese art of flower arrangement—is to take a few beautiful flowers and plants and tastefully present them in very simple containers to enhance home decor. The 53 elegant arrangements featured in Japanese Ikebana for Every Season are perfect for special occasions—Mother's Day, Valentine's Day, birthday, anniversary—or any event that calls for a flower bouquet. The key to good Ikebana arrangements is to understand a few very simple principles—like the idea of mitate, seeing old things with new eyes—and to learn a few easy techniques to stabilize and support plants inside a vase or container. Using common flowers and plants from the garden, a nearby field or forest, or the local florist, anyone can easily create these lovely Ikebana in just a few minutes. Authors Rie Imai and Yuji Ueno explain how to select flowers and containers from things that are already around—and then turn them into something special. The basic instructions in the book cover a wide range of styles that encourage readers to use their own creativity rather than copying traditional and highly technical Ikebana design concepts. No matter what time of year it is and regardless of your taste or budget—the arrangements in this book will lend a touch of Japanese elegance to your home.

Contemporary Voting in Europe Alexis Chommeloux,Elizabeth Gibson-Morgan.2016-11-13 This book provides an original, international and multidisciplinary perspective on the recent and extensive political and constitutional changes in Europe. The contributors cover changes from several key European countries, whether European Union members, applicant members, non-EU members or potentially former members, namely France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Denmark, Spain, the Western Balkans and Switzerland. The volume offers a rare understanding of contemporary European societies by examining how people's choices as citizens and voters have influenced and can influence those changes and thus make a difference via elections and referendums. It will appeal to students and scholars of European studies, comparative politics, and voting behaviour, as well as to the wider readership interested in current affairs and European issues.

Le grand livre de l'ikebana Annik Howa Gendrot.2000 L'ikebana, c'est l'art de marier et de disposer fleurs et végétaux selon un code ancestral pour créer des bouquets qui procurent sérénité et apaisement de l'âme et de l'esprit. Diplômée de l'école japonaise Ohara de Tokyo, Annik Howa Gendrot nous révèle les secrets de cette tradition esthétique millénaire. Les compositions qu'elle nous propose de réaliser avec elle se divisent en quatre groupes : les arrangements de lignes et de couleurs comprenant les principaux types de base, les paysages qui reconstituent des ensembles vus dans la nature, les bouquets-images influencés par la peinture japonaise et, enfin, les arrangements conceptuels où la fantaisie est maîtresse et peut conduire jusqu'au surréalisme. Indispensable à l'amateur éclairé comme ou néophyte pour réussir les bouquets les plus raffinés et les plus traditionnels, cet ouvrage, tout à la fois beau et pratique grâce à ses schémas explicatifs, nous invite à partager l'aventure esthétique d'un des plus grands maîtres de cet art subtil et poétique.

Rumiko Style Rumiko Manako.2015 Rumiko Manako is a refreshing outsider in the world of floral design. Her floral art is as graceful as dance movements, as technical and well thought-out as Ikenobo (Ikebana) but at the same time it remains as accessible as Western flower arranging. This very personal crossover style not only bridges the gap between traditional flower arranging and Ikebana, but the Rumiko Style seems to be catching on rapidly. Proof of this is the growing number of national and international followers and the always-busy workshops and demonstrations. Rumiko Manako builds and sculpts with flowers and leaves, but despite the large dimensions, the three-dimensionality and the spectacular displays, her designs are elegant, flawless and poetic without a fault. This book shows Rumiko's designs in interaction with some special Parisian landmarks (including Castel Beranger, the Eiffel Tower, La Géode and Rodin), supplemented with works made in the studio and inspired by her many travels and encounters. Rumiko Manako is head of Manako Jafas in Paris and director of the Ikenobo Bousoukai Branch in Tokyo. Text in English, French, and Japanese.

Over Seas of Memory: A Novel Michaël Ferrier.2019-06 Based loosely on the author's life, this novel recounts the narrator's journey following the footsteps of his Mauritius-born grandfather, Maxime, who abruptly boarded a boat bound for Madagascar in 1922 and never returned. Michaël Ferrier tells a tale of discovery as well as the elusive, colorful story of Maxime's life in Madagascar, which included a stint as an acrobat in a traveling circus and, later, as a diver and artist on marine expeditions. Maxime's story is one of adventure but also romance. He falls in love with a refined young Pauline Nuñez, Ferrier's grandmother, whose well-to-do family of Indian merchants owns a hotel famous for playing the latest music—including American jazz—and throwing popular dances and parties. Over Seas of Memory weaves these personal stories with the island's history, including its period as a Vichy-governed territory at the center of what was termed "Project Madagascar," the Nazi plan to relocate Europe's Jewish population to the island. As Ferrier interlaces his family's intimate story with the larger story of colonialism's lasting and complicated impact—including the racial and ethnic divisions it fomented—he engages with critical issues in contemporary France concerning national and cultural identity.

La destruction des statues de Victor Schoelcher en Martinique Rodolphe Solbiac.2020 Résumé lodiciquartique français : Cet ouvrage présente une lecture critique de la destruction de deux statues de Victor Schoelcher, en Martinique, le 22 mai 2020. L'écho de cette destruction dans les manifestations du mouvement « Black Lives Matter » faisant suite à l'assassinat de George Floyd a pris la forme d'une vague inédite de démontage ou de destruction de statues témoignant d'une histoire esclavagiste et coloniale. Rodolphe Solbiac analyse les destructions de statues de Schoelcher comme la dénonciation d'une représentation hégémonique de la mémoire française coloniale et esclavagiste par des monuments et des noms de rues, d'une part, et l'exigence de réparations et de justice pour les Martiniquais-es d'ascendance africaine, d'autre part. Il décrypte des déclarations politiques qui ont condamné cette action. Il explore également l'articulation histoire, mémoire, pouvoir et racisme structurel pour constater l'absence de mémoire officielle multidirectionnelle. Enfin, il définit les enjeux de la coproduction des savoirs pour écrire un récit réparateur des personnes d'ascendance africaine et tendre vers une véritable interculturalité.

Where the Heart Beats Kay Larson.2013-07-30 A "heroic" biography of John Cage and his "awakening through Zen Buddhism"—"a kind of love story" about a brilliant American pioneer of the creative arts who transformed himself and his culture (The New York Times) Composer John Cage sought the silence of a mind at peace with itself—and found it in Zen Buddhism, a spiritual path that changed both his music and his view of the universe. "Remarkably researched, exquisitely written," Where the Heart Beats weaves together "a great many threads of cultural history" (Maria Popova, Brain Pickings) to illuminate Cage's struggle to accept himself and his relationship with choreographer Merce Cunningham. Freed to be his own man, Cage originated exciting experiments that set him at the epicenter of a new avant-garde forming in the 1950s. Robert Rauschenberg, Jasper Johns, Andy Warhol, Yoko Ono, Allan Kaprow, Morton Feldman, and Leo Castelli were among those influenced by his 'teaching' and 'preaching.' Where the Heart Beats shows the blossoming of Zen in the very heart of American culture.
