Journalism Joe Sacco.2012-06-19 A first for the world's greatest cartoon reporter, a collection of journalism, including articles on the American military in Iraq that have never been published in the United States Over the past decade, Joe Sacco, our moral draughtsman (Christopher Hitchens), has increasingly turned to short-form comics journalism to report from the sidelines of wars around the world. Collected here for the first time, Sacco's darkly funny, revealing reportage confirms his standing as one of the foremost war correspondents working today. In The Unwanted, Sacco chronicles the detention of Saharan refugees who have washed up on the shores of Malta; Chechen War, Chechen Women documents the trial without end of widows in the Caucasus; and Kushinagar goes deep into the lives of India's untouchables, who are hanging onto the planet by their fingernails. Other pieces take Sacco to the smuggling tunnels of Gaza; the trial of Milan Kovacevic, Bosnian warlord, in The Hague; and the darkest chapter in recent American history, Abu Ghraib. And on a mission with American troops—pieces never published in the United States—he confronts the misery and absurdity of the war in Iraq. Among Sacco's most mature, accomplished work, Journalism demonstrates the power of our premier cartoonist to chronicle human experience with a force that often eludes other media.

The Story Without a Name Jules Barbey D'Aureville.2023-08-27 In a desolate village at the foot of the Cévennes, a Capuchin preacher stays with a mother-and-daughter household. Despite his eloquence, madame de Ferjol and her daughter Lasthénie find him imposing, and they become increasingly uneasy around him. On the day before Easter, the Ladies de Ferjol learn that their Capuchin guest has disappeared without a word. Shortly after, Lasthénie falls mysteriously ill, and become increasingly pale and melancholy. What follows is a descent into suspicion, religious fanaticism and despair, ultimately resulting in destructive consequences.

Hergé, fils de Tintin Benoît Peeters.2002 Le biographe exploite des éléments nouveaux comme la correspondance de Georges Rémi alias Hergé avec sa première femme, Germaine Kieckens, et son premier secrétaire, Marcel Dehaye pour montrer que les aventures de Tintin sont en quelque sorte le journal des événements qui ponctuent la réalité de son créateur.

Les femmes dans le monde de Tintin Renaud Nattiez.2018-10-24 Curieusement, alors que tout a été dit ou presque sur Hergé et Tintin, peu d'analyses ont été consacrées aux femmes dans une oeuvre pourtant universelle. Cela signifie-t-il que cette moitié de l'humanité est si peu présente dans les 24 albums qu'il n'y a rien à en dire ? L'univers du petit reporter serait-il uniquement masculin ? Ce livre a pour ambition de combler cette lacune, en s'interrogeant sur cette rareté, et de faire le point sur la pertinence de la critique la plus répandue à l'encontre d'Hergé : la misogynie du monde de Tintin...

Mao and the Chinese Revolution Yves Chevrier.2023-09-26 It has been more than a century since the birth of Mao Zedong. From the collapse of the old Chinese Empire in 1912 to the foundation of the People's Republic in 1949, his history is linked with that of contemporary China, and beyond national borders, with the history of communism as well. His version of guerilla warfare and revolution resulted in the construction of a socialist society that became a model of socialism throughout the world. Both a tyrant and rebel, Mao wanted to rule through revolution. Yet the Big Leap Forward (1958) and the Cultural Revolution (1966) each plunged China into chaos without saving it from totalitarianism. After 1978, de-Maoization and economic reforms by Deng Xiaoping helped heal the country's wounds, but the future yet remains uncertain. Whether to be an empire united or broken, serenely open or in conflict, democratic or authoritarian, egalitarian or prosperous—so many lingering questions remain of those that Mao and his generation began asking nearly a century ago. Was the Maoist Revolution futile? Would China have been better off without Mao—and is such a thing imaginable?

Mr. Pump's Legacy Hergé.2003-10 In Mr Pump's Legacy the first aeroplane to be flown from Paris to New York at 1000 kilometres per hour will receive 10 million dollars. In an attempt to save the Stratoship H.22 from being stolen by gangsters, Jo and Zette take off with their pet monkey Jocko. But running short on fuel they soon find themselves having to land on a desert island.

Hergé reporter Rainier Grutman,Maxime Prévost.2010 Ce numéro étudie les liens des Aventures de Tintin avec l'histoire, la société, la politique. Il s'agit plus précisément d'objectiver les discours et les imaginaires sociaux qui pénètrent les albums et que ceux-ci relaient ou réfractent. Car l'oeuvre d'Hergé a toujours été tant intemporelle (voire mythique) qu'actuelle, servant de caisse de résonance et de support iconique à l'histoire en train de se faire, de l'entre-deux-guerres à la postmodernité, en passant par l'Occupation, la Libération et la guerre froide. Sans être pour autant l'écho sonore de leur siècle, les albums de la série Tintin portent souvent la trace du moment où ils ont été dessinés, comme Hergé l'avouait dans une entrevue où il se disait encore très perméable, très influençable, et à ce titre un excellent médium... . Cette inscription flexible du social expliquerait aussi pourquoi ces albums survivent à leur créateur et continuent de susciter adaptations, commentaires et débats.

Mezek Yann.2016-12-07T00:00:00+01:00 1948. The creation of the Hebrew state is proving to be not exactly a peaceful affair, starting with the Egyptian bombs that are regularly falling on Tel-Aviv. All that Israel has to fight the lethal enemy 'Spitfires' are some old 'Mezek', flown by Jewish volunteers from all over the world, but also mercenaries from rather more sinister backgrounds. Bjorn is one of those mercenaries. He's come to risk his life for several million dollars, a fact that galls his brothers-in-arms, who are fighting not for cash but for their ideals!

L'Île Noire Hergé.1938-01-01 De retour d'Amérique du Sud, Tintin s'embarque dans une aventure britannique palpitante, rythmée par d'incessants rebondissements. Pour la première fois et non la dernière, Tintin s'oppose au fourbe Docteur Müller. Ce dernier a organisé, à l'échelle européenne, un vaste trafic de fausse monnaie. Après bien des péripéties, Tintin réussira-t-il à le démanteler.

On the God of the Christians Rémi Brague.2013 On the God of the Christians tries to explain how Christians conceive of the God whom they worship. No proof for His existence is offered, but simply a description of the Christian image of God. The first step consists in doing away with some commonly held opinions that put them together with the other monotheists, religions of the book, and religions of Abraham. Christians do believe in one God, but they do not conceive of its being one in the same way as other monotheists, like the first of them, the pharaoh Akhenaton (18th century before J.C.), like some philosophers, e.g., Aristotle, or like Islam. Christians admit the authority of a Holy Book, but don't consider it as being the peak of God's revelation. For them, revelation culminates in the person, life, and doings of Jesus - including his passion and resurrection. Christians acknowledge the exemplary figure of Abraham, but the stories they tell about him they share with Jews, but not with Muslims, who see in him the first Muslim. The Trinity is not a way to loosen the exclusivity of the only God. It is the very way in which God is one, i.e., in the inner richness and fecundity of love. The God of the Christians is Father, but not male. Human males become fathers through the mediation of a female. God is so radically the Father of everything and, in a very special sense, of the eternal Son, that He is not in need of a partner. His fatherhood can in no way legitimate the superiority of the male over the female sex. The God of the Christians doesn't want us to obey Him in order to enslave us; He expects us to act freely according to what is good for us. Now, the Good is not something that He has in store and bestows on His creatures. The Good is what He is and He is the Good of His creatures. The God of the Christians is merciful, but He takes seriously man's freedom, even when man doesn't accept Him. Hence, He doesn't content Himself with forgiving from the outside. He has to contrive a system (technically speaking: salvation history or economy of salvation) that will enable Man freely to accept His love.

Lenin Hélène Carrère d'Encausse.2001 The author removes Lenin from ideological passions in order to situate him in the history of a century that has come to its end and which has been dominated more than anything by Lenin's ideas and will.

Spawn #109 Brian Holguin,Todd McFarlane.2001-06-01 Seven dead bodies are discovered hanging in front of the precinct house, nobody saw a thing and Sam and Twitch are the unlucky ones who get the case. Spawn, who is helping to locate Twitch's son, finds that even he needs help in discovering what sinister events are unfolding in his city. He assigns Ab and Zab to find out what's going on. Dawn draws still-unsuspecting Max deeper into the cult known as The Kingdom, as elsewhere Spawn deals with other Kingdom followers who are about to take the law into their own hands.

A History of Power in Europe Wim Blockmans.1997 Wim Blockmans investigates the exercise of power in European society through detailed analysis of three broad fields: politics, economics, and culture. The more these three areas overlap, he argues, the more absolute is the power. Thus, the movement of populations, the relationship of religions to secular powers, the arts of cities, courts, and villages all fall under his scrutiny.

America's National Game Albert Goodwill Spalding.1911 This book is Albert Spalding's work of historic facts concerning the beginning, evolution, development and popularity of base ball, with personal reminiscences of its vicissitudes, its victories and its votaries. It is one of the defining books in the early formative years of modern baseball.

Self-images André Rival,Klaus Honnef.1995 Andre Rival, at home in both Paris and Berlin, has created a fascinating project out of a relatively simple idea: 100 women taking photographs of themselves. The outcome is both startling and impressive. It is an expression of contemporary female identity - self-aware, distinctive and thoroughly positive, in a series of nude photographs that inexorably capture and hold our attention, revealing at the same time the artist's highly creative approach to the medium of photography and to the individual selves of the women portrayed. The author describes his project in this way: We are inundated with pictures of women in the media. Ordinarily, the pictures we see seek to achieve a kind of 'sameness' based on unwritten ideals of beauty; physical perfection, total fitness become the determining factors. These images of women, provoked as they are by the media industry, awakened in me the urge to confront both that industry and myself with something else. I chose to set aside my own ways of thinking and do a series of 100 women in which it was not I who would put together the photographs, but the women themselves. For this purpose, I gave them each a shutter-switch and left the room. That represented the beginning of the attempt to enable the women to become photographic subjects rather than objects; they were left to decide on their own which personal image of themselves they wanted to convey. The conditions were the same for all of the women: the same lighting, the same white background and the same unchanged camera position. It was essential to fix the location of the camera, so that the women did not perceive themselves as being pursued by an 'observer'; instead, they were able to establish distance and camera angle themselves with the aid of a video screen that showed them each camera exposure as a still photo.
